Marine and Coastal Access Bill Amendment

Amendments to the legislation for Several and Regulating Orders

The organisations listed above are all members of Wildlife and Countryside Link's Marine Task Force<sup>1</sup>, which has been campaigning for several years for improvements in marine conservation and better management of the marine area. We have been closely engaged in the Marine & Coastal Access Bill process from the outset.

Background

The 1967 (Shellfish) Act has also always provided that the grantor, Government, could rescind the grant if it was being misused. The intent was that if the right of severalty or the right to regulate a fishery was given to somebody who went on to allow the fishery to fall into disuse or poor condition the grant could be rescinded and the right given to another person.

Link wishes to see the power to rescind a several or regulating order extended to circumstances where the exercise of the rights conferred is harmful to the marine environment, and a new clause covering this is shown below.
